

DANEBANK SCHOOL.

On Wednesday, December 4th, junior pupils of "Danebank" Church of England School, Hurstville, presented a number of children's plays in the St. George's Parish Hall. The programme included the dramatization of Francis Cornforth's "Princess and the Gipsies" and Dickens' "Christmas Carol." The verse-speaking groups said Kipling's "Boots," Rupert Brooke's "Soldier," and a bracket of chosen numbers from William Blake, Robert Burns, and John Massfield. The very junior pupils acted "The New Dolly," "Buns," "The Three Naughty Imps," "The Silver Whistle," and "Surprise." A special feature of the evening was a playlet, "A Dream of the Past," written and produced by the children themselves, and done in costume. The entire proceeds of the performance were devoted to funds for the new rectory building.
