

Seventh student gets 99.95

SYDNEY Boys High School graduate Michael Friedman achieved a UAI (University Admissions Index) of 99.95 in the 2001 HSC.

He is the seventh Jewish student to have achieved 99.95, while Moriah College graduate Michael Fridman achieved a UAI of 100.

In other results which have come to hand, Miriam Kleiner of Randwick Girls High School achieved 97.35; Lara Hoffman of Moriah College achieved 97; Tim Modell of Emanuel School achieved 96.05 and has won a Business Information Technologies Co-op Scholarship at the University of New South Wales; his cousin, Justin Modell, also of Emanuel, achieved 90.4; Moriah College graduates Alan Hedges achieved 95.2 and Jarryd Rubinstein 92.55; and Elisha Samra of Danebank College, Hurstville achieved 92.2.

• Claudia Mangel of Kambala High School achieved a UAI of 99.65, not 99.6 as reported in last week's comprehensive list of results.

She plans to take a year off to travel to the Greek Islands and Turkey, after which she is considering doing a combined law degree.

• Kevin Jankelowitz, who achieved 98.3, was captain of Emanuel, not a student at Masada College, as stated.

He plans to study biomedical engineering or telecommunications.

• Adele Samra of Kambala High School achieved a UAI of 92.6, not 91.6 as reported in last week's paper.

paper.

Michael Friedman

Claudia Mangel

Kevin Jankelowitz

Tim Modell

Justin Modell

Alan Hedges

Lara Hoffman

Miriam Kleiner