

HEAD-MISTRESS RETIRES.

As Miss Ball has now retired as headmistress of the Danabank Church of England School, Hurstville, parents of past and present pupils, and ex-students themselves, propose to acknowledge what she has done for the school and the district by making a presentation to her. A testimonial fund has been opened, for which the hon. secretary, Mrs. R. H. Kaines, of 81 Queens Road, Hurstville, will be pleased to receive contributions. The fund will close on March 7 and a presentation made the following night at a social evening to be held in the Pariah Hall, Hurstville.
